BIGGEST RESERVOIR IN WORLD BREAKS

APPALLING LOSS OF LIFE SURE TO FOLLOW BREAKING OF DAM AS NO WARNING COULD BE GIVEN.

CELONA, O., March 21.—The Grand reservoir, the largest artificial body of water in the world, broke through the dam at the eastern end this afternoon and another great flood on top of the one which has just carried thousands to death is now imminent.

It is feared the town of St. Marys will be swept away. All the northwestern part of Ohio and the northeast west part of Indiana is threatened. It is predicted that the city of Ft. Wayne, Ind., will suffer a fate similar to Dayton, O., as the city is similarly located.

A terrible wall of water is now sweeping down on Ft. Wayne. Desperate efforts were made to spread warning flags, but communication is practically paralyzed.

FIRE SWEEPS THROUGH DAYTON AND FREEZING WEATHER ADDS TO SUFFERING IN OTHER OHIO CITIES.

DAYTON, O., March 21.—Fire burned in this city all last night and this morning. From the earliest possible indications are the fires started in Eastman's drug store at the corner of Third and St. Clair streets, burned to second street and swept on to Jefferson street, consuming every building in its path.

The current is too swift for new boats to enter the business district and many have been overtaxed trying to effect repairs.

It is estimated that 65,000 people are marooned in the districts still unscathed. The weather is raining today. All estimates of the number of dead by water and fire are guess work, but the number will mount into the thousands.

More Dead in Canton
CANTON, O., March 21.—The number of dead in Canton, Ohio, today is estimated to be 100. The number of dead in Dayton, Ohio, today is estimated to be 100. The number of dead in Cincinnati, Ohio, today is estimated to be 100.

A Modern Type.
They are usually of a willful fairness, with flesh kept firm by the massage; their brows are lowering, and there is the perpetual hint of hardness in their faces; their apparel is exceedingly good, but their manners are ungentle, their voices harsh and discontented; there is no light in their eyes, no charm or softness in their presence. They are fitting mates, perhaps, for the able-bodied pagans who are overrunning the earth, but hardly suitable nurses for a generation which must redeem us from materialism, if indeed we are to be redeemed. Facing them, one wonders if race suicide is not one of nature's merciful devices. How should they or their offspring ever replace our old-fashioned lady? Yet they are the natural product of much of our modern wealth, as she was the natural product of the comfortable life of a generation of two ago.—The Atlantic.

When Travelling.
Take a candle in your bag and a box of safety matches. When they are wanted you will be glad they were put in. The space required for them is small. A passenger on a steamer that was wrecked had a small candle which enabled her to collect some of her most valuable possessions when the lights went out after the collision.—Today's Magazine.

Economic Suggestion.
Louise—"The man that Edith married is a reformer." Julia—"How did he lose his money?"—Judge.

Better Than Drugs.
For people who are severely troubled with the inability to sleep soundly, some diversion is needed, a party, an entertainment or theater. Reading poets and philosophers will help, and very often a hot drink will prove a great help in inducing a natural and restful sleep. But above all, breathe deeply of good pure air just before retiring, and have your sleeping room well ventilated.

But No Man Does.
A man would save a great deal of valuable time if a list of addresses important in his business were as easy to remember as a bunch of funny stories.—Washington Star.

Explicit Distinction.
"You will open the convention with prayer?" "Yes," replied the chaplain. "But, of course, you will bear in mind that it is a prayer and not prophecy."

SCIENTISTS STUDY LIFE IN THE SEA
SPECIALISTS PLAN TO MAKE INVESTIGATIONS ALONG COAST

SPECIAL ATTENTION WILL BE GIVEN TO CORAL FORMATIONS TO ASCERTAIN ORIGIN OF PENINSULA.

MIAMI, Fla., March 27 — Exploration of the waters of lower Florida and the animal and vegetable life therein, and particularly of coral formations, will be made by a party of scientists connected with the Carnegie Institute of Biology at Washington, D. C., who left the capital yesterday for a two months' cruise. The institute's boat, the Anton Dohrn, is now on the Miami river above the 12th street bridge being fitted out for the cruise.

Particular attention is to be given to coral formations by the scientists who hope to be able to learn the origin of the Florida Peninsula therefrom. The coral insects will be alternately "fattened" and "starved" in various mixtures in order to note the effect of various mixtures in order to note the effect of various solutions on them, all specimens secured from the bed of the ocean to be taken to the laboratories at Dry Tortugas for experimentation.

Dr. Alfred G. Mayer, a scientist of note, will be in charge of the party, ten or 12 other scientists from Yale, Harvard, Johns Hopkins and other institutions of higher learning to be in the party. They will dredge the bottom of the ocean and take samples of the water as well as all manner of life found there.

The Anton Dohrn, which was built at the cost of $25,000, has special machinery for deep sea dredging, the scientists expecting to sample the water every ten fathoms as far down as 940 fathoms, or one mile and 200 yards. Captain Ivan C. Lundbloom and Chief Engineer John Mills are in charge of the boat.

"Dad."
"Dad" and "daddy" were well known in this country in the sixteenth century; "papa" did not come in, borrowed from abroad, until the seventeenth century was well advanced. Florio, at the end of the former century, defined the Italian "pappa" as "the first word that children are taught to call their father, as ours say 'dad,' 'daddy' or 'bab.' " "Dad" seems to be the commoner to mankind of the two. Nausicaas in the "Odyssey" calls her father "pappa philie," dear papa; but Greek has "tata" also, and Welsh has "tat," and Irish "dadd."

Probably What He Wanted.
The following was one of King Edward's favorites: "A very well-known K. G. sent to an eminent physician and surgeon, who is a familiar figure in Portland place, the following wire: 'My wife's mother is lying at death's door. Will you come around and try to pull her through?' It is a true 'true story,' as Miss Mar declares, and the physician did pull her through to health."

"Seaside Cocktail."
Mix a pretty girl with a holiday boy and soak them in moonlight till midnight. Squeeze into a tiny corner of the pier. Stir well with the music of love waltzes. Serve with an engagement ring—Marquis of Queensberry.

To Take Marks Off Furniture.
Wet a sponge in camomile spirits of camphor and apply it freely to the furniture. It has nearly, if not quite, the same effect as varnish has, and is much cheaper.

DAYTONA TO HAVE GOOD CHAUTAUQUA

BOARD OF TRADE TO BACK COURSE FOR NEXT SEASON

ENTERTAINMENTS TO CONTINUE FOR ONE WEEK AND INCLUDE THE BEST TALENT TO BE OBTAINED.

That Daytona will have a first class chautauqua course lasting a full week some time during the next winter season and that the course will include some of the best obtainable chautauqua talent, is shown by action taken by the Daytona board of trade at a special meeting held Wednesday, when the board went on record as endorsing, morally and financially, such a course.

Rev. D. H. Rutter appeared before the board with a proposition to take the responsibility of arranging for the chautauqua course if he could have the backing of the board of trade, and the civic organization was not slow in granting such support.

The idea in starting the movement for a chautauqua course next season at this early date is that early arrangements can be made for the attractions to be brought here and that everybody interested may be given an opportunity to pledge support to the undertaking.

There Was a Reason.

"It's all very well for you to preach economy," said his wife, "but I notice whenever I cut down expenses that you smoke better cigars and spend more money for your own pleasure than at any other time." "Well, confound it! What do you suppose I want you to economize for, anyway?"

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

THE PORT ORANGE HOG

The letter you published from J. W. Shields has stirred up a general indignation in this community against the human hog he encountered and there is a way to reach and cure this abnormal porcine imitation of a man.

These sporadic monstrosities are occasionally found in the best towns, they are always low down, moral cowards and afraid of the law.

This hog assumed that the road was a private way and that he owned to the middle of it, while in fact it had been open to public travel more than 20 years and the public had acquired a right of way and the hog therefore can be sued for obstruction and in this case for damage and constructive assault.

If it is not a public way the new town of Port Orange should put up a sign "private way, dangerous" and so cut out one of the advertised historic attractions of the suburbs of Daytona.

If that hog had the legal right to obstruct the road it is difficult to understand the motives actuating his devilish behavior.

Perhaps he felt encouraged by the malevolent actions of men higher up. Probably this hog is one of those loafers who have been sitting at the village crossroads all this winter watching the autos bump over the illegal barriers built across the road and in the same spirit there have been lately dumped hundreds of piles of fresh oyster shells which should have been delayed another month when the tourists and their autos have gone home.

The tires of 200 autos cost about $40,000 and they have been damaged many thousands of dollars in the past ten days.

The mayor and council will have a big job to pull down and live down the stigma already attached to the name of Port Orange.

J. J. RANDALL PURCHASES THE SEBRING PROPERTY.

J. J. Randall of Freeport, Long Island, N. Y., has purchased the George E. Sebring residence property which adjoins on the south his own winter home built by him a couple of years ago. The Sebring residence is one of the handsomest in this city, being constructed of Miami rock, with red tile roof in contrast to the white stone. Mr. Sebring has desired to sell the property since becoming interested in land operations at Sebring, this state.

SPANISH SUGAR MILL—2 miles west of Port Orange and about 8 miles from Daytona; the machinery is still in a good state of preservation, although the mill is presumed to have been built and operated by the early Spanish settlers.

DELAND—25 miles from Daytona; the county seat of Volusia county and seat of John B. Stetson university; a very picturesque city; reached by motor over hard surfaced road.

GOVERNMENT LIGHTHOUSE — a Ponce Park, 12 miles from Daytona is reached by boat or by motor on the ocean beach.

OCEAN BEACH—excellent bathing north for 10 miles and south 70 miles to Mosquito inlet and the Government lighthouse at Ponce Park. The beach is the most magnificent in the world.

BEED, KNOX & BEED ORANGE GROVE—18 miles, via Ormond, is one of the largest groves in Volusia county and is well worth seeing; can be reached by motor over fairly good road; can also be reached by boat.

NUMBER NINE ORANGE GROVE—a large grove, passed on the way to the Beed, Knox & Beed grove, is 12 miles from Daytona.

NEW SMYRNA—16 miles from Daytona, over an excellent hard surfaced road; this drive is said to be the prettiest in the state. At New Smyrna are the ruins of an ancient fort and other historical spots, left by the colony of Andrew Turnbull.

OLD SPANISH MISSION—2 miles west of New Smyrna, reached by motor over good road. This mission is without authentic history but by many it is contended that this is the church built by Columbus on his second voyage to America. The altar is still extant, but at a later date the building was used as a sugar mill.

WATERWAYS ASSOCIATION IS COMING

WILL HOLD MEETING HERE TO KEEP UP ENTHUSIASM

PRESIDENT OF BOARD OF TRADE TO ISSUE CALL AND INVITE ALL BOARDS OF TRADE IN THIS SECTION.

The next meeting of the Central Florida Deep Waterways association will be held in Daytona and invitations will be extended, through the Daytona board of trade, to all boards of trade and other civic organizations in this part of the state to attend the gathering. The date will be set and the call for the meeting issued by President L. M. Waite of the Daytona board of trade.

This is the result of action taken at the special meeting of the board of trade held Wednesday night, in response to a request from H. I. Hamilton of New Smyrna, secretary of the organization. Enthusiasm for deeper water through Mosquito inlet continues to grow throughout the territory which would be affected by improving the inlet and the membership of the deep waterways association is continuously increasing. Boards of trade, commercial clubs and all civic organizations along the East Coast and in all towns in the central section of the state are encouraging the organization and pledging support to hastening its objects.

Daytona citizens have not shown the interest they should have shown in the proposition, considering the benefits which would derive to this city in the event of deep water through the inlet, and there should be a strong booster sentiment shown to back the call for a meeting to be held here.

The date will be set by President Waite and the call issued soon, every board of trade and civic organization through the central portion of Florida being invited to send delegates.

The final issue of the Daily News for the season 1912-13 will appear Saturday evening. The weekly Gazette-News will keep you posted on the happenings hereabouts during the summer. Send in your subscription for eight months for $1.25; or for one year for $2.00.

SENTIMENT IS STILL STRONG FOR DIVISION OF THE COUNTY

ARRANGEMENTS BEING MADE TO CALL ANOTHER MASS MEETING SOON TO FURTHER DISCUSS SUBJECT.

In spite of the fact little has been said lately about county division, the people of Volusia county are strongly in favor of division, as shown by the sentiment expressed at the time of the general election last fall, and will depend upon their representatives in the legislature to stand by their promises to work for the special act dividing the county if the people here desire it.

The matter is now really up to the representatives in the legislature, but the people in this part of Volusia county will keep reminding them of their promises. Arrangements are being made for another mass meeting to be held soon to hear reports from committees appointed some time ago and for a further discussion of the subject.

House Plans Important.
The care of food in the home and all other forms of household work are greatly facilitated by right planning and then the use of suitable materials for the construction and furnishing of the home. An adequate and convenient water supply and other conveniences are essential, not only for comfort and for saving labor, but also from the standpoint of home hygiene.

Drastic Punishment.
For having vexed her dead husband during life, a Parisian shopkeeper, Mme. Mathilde David, recently set herself on fire after saturating her clothes with petrol. In a letter, which she wrote before her suicide, she stated that she had chosen the most painful death she could think of to punish herself.

His Manly Protest.
A tender-hearted youth was once present at an Oxford supper, where the fathers of those assembled were being roundly abused for their parsimony in supplying the demands of their sons. At last, after having long kept silence, he lifted up his voice in mild protest. "After all, gentlemen," he said, "let us remember that they are our fellow-creatures."

The Man of the Hour.
The country is filled with reformers. But where is the man to be found that will stand for the things proposed by another faction aside from his own because it is everlastingly right?—Des Moines Capital.

Superficial Strategy.
"Strategy in war," explained the Irish military instructor, "is when ye don't let the enemy discover that the ammunition is run out, but just kape on firing."

Quid Pro Quo.
Sam—Will you keep our engagement secret for the present? Lulu—All right; but where's the present?—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

WARNINGS OF STORM ARE ISSUED

PRESENT DISTURBANCE TO BE FOLLOWED BY COLD WEATHER

GOVERNMENT WEATHER BUREAU OFFICIALS SAY STORMS MAY BE EXPECTED TO CONTINUE THROUGH MONTH.

That Daytona and this section of the country may yet be touched by the severe storms which have been sweeping the northern states is indicated by a storm warning received here late last night. The warning sent out from Jacksonville was as follows:

"Hoist northwest storm warning 10 p. m. Severe storm centered in Kentucky and moving northeastward will cause high south and shifting to northwesterly winds along the Atlantic coast, with probably severe squalls and wind increasing to gale in force. Rain, followed by decidedly cold weather."

This forenoon the Western Union Telegraph company was unable to get any communication through north and east of Savannah and north and west of Atlanta, indicating that the storm reported must have swept that section of the country with sufficient force to take out wires and destroy communication.

Must Expect Storms.
Cyclonic disturbances, which have been wreaking death and desolation over the south, central and western states during the past two weeks, will probably continue for another month, according to the officials of the United States weather bureau, these storms being due to the change of seasons. The rain storms which are causing the floods in Ohio, Indiana and other central states are due to the equinoctial period.

However, the storms this year are not greater than in other years, according to statements issued by weather bureau officials, but this year the cyclones and floods have had a propensity for striking big cities and towns, while in other years (excepting the storm which a few years ago swept through the city of St. Louis) the thickly settled communities have escaped. Day tore a swath through the city of Omaha and which last week and the week before visited the southern and central southern states, can be expected at this season of the year, say the weather bureau officials, though it is not to be expected they will all visit cities and towns, as the area covered by incorporated communities is extremely small as compared with rural sections.

Traceable to the cyclonic disturbances which cause, or are caused by, low pressure areas in one section and high pressure areas in another, are extremely low temperatures along the Pacific coast and in other western states.

Art Treasures in Spain.
Spain is considered by art collectors a lucrative field and many interesting antiques are picked up here from time to time. Seville has numerous shops where antiques are sold and where the old Spanish needlework may be purchased. This section of the country has so recently (comparatively speaking) been invaded by tourists that art buyers claim to find here many desirable things of which the more frequented countries have long since been almost sold out. Probably the old Spanish needlework and the wood carvings are the most characteristic finds, though the antique Spanish and the lustrous Moorish tiles are also much sought. Of course paintings are eagerly scanned and occasionally a Murillo school picture comes to sale.

Neglected Utopia.
Why is the earthly paradise unattractive? Everything that human ingenuity can do to make an ideal dwelling place out of Australia has been done. It is the Utopia from which reformers drew their suggestions for improvements, and it exports to other lands more fads for betterment than any other product. Yet Australia, the source of plans for happiness to all the world, is sadly neglected by seekers after happiness. —Detroit Free Press.

Ancient Italian City.
Asolo, which inspired two of Browning's verses in "Asolando," and which is observing the centenary, is a fortified town in Treviso, in northern Italy. It was the ancient Agellum, and possesses a cathedral and a ruined aqueduct. The former palace of Catharina Cornaro, queen of Cyprus, is in the neighborhood. There are beautiful seats in the vicinity, and the town has a population of under 6,000.—London Globe.

Makes Unique Home.
In Zarzanto, Spain, a case has occurred which is probably unique of its kind. A child has just been born while his father, grandfather, great-grandfather and great-great-grandfather are all living. His name is Urticococha, and the family are Basque farm laborers. The great-grandfather and the great-great-grandfather have acted as godfathers to the latest arrival. The united family constitutes nearly a whole village.

The Wedding Ring.
The wedding ring is of foremost interest to the groom and a new wedding ring is to be had, called the "alliance ring." This appears to be one solid ring, but is actually two, the joints being invisible, and whenever engraved, the ring is separated by inserting a pin in the inside pinhole, which separates the ring and the marking is done on the inside surface.

DAUGHTERS OF POSTMASTER GENERAL

The second and third daughters of Postmaster General Harrison, Lucy, aged 18 years (right), and Sidney, aged 16 (left), are attending a girls' college in Virginia, and probably will go thence to the University of Texas, despite their ardent desire to be in Washington while their father is in the cabinet.

Relief From Influenza.

Influenza, as is believed by the majority of medical men at present, is caused by a microbe which is present in the atmosphere, when the epidemic is raging. The surest safeguard against a disease arising from a microbe is to use antiseptics; of these carbolic acid and eucalyptus oil have been found of most use for the prevention and cure of influenza. The best way of using these is in the form of a smelling-bottle containing, in addition to carbolic and eucalyptus, camphor, charcoal and ammonia.

Lesson of Grief.

There are moods in which we court suffering, in the hope that there, at least, we shall find reality, strange peaks and edges of truth. But it turns out to be scene-painting and counterfeit. The only thing grief has taught me is to know how shallow it is.—Emerson.

His "American Name."

A small Italian boy, after due attendance upon the public school, asked his teacher if he might not change his name and have, instead of his true patronymic, "a Merican name." "What name would you like?" asked the teacher. Proudly the lad produced a scrap of paper on which was written—"Patrick Dennis McCarthy."

Independence First.

Let your first effort be not for wealth, but independence. Whatever be your talents, whatever your prospects, never be tempted to speculate away, on the chance of a palace, that which you need as a provision against the workhouse.—Lord Lytton.

Look Well to This Day.

Listen to the salutation of the dawn—Look well to this day! . . . For yesterday is but a dream and tomorrow is only a vision, but every day well lived makes every yesterday a dream of beauty, and every tomorrow a vision of hope. Look well, therefore, to this day!—From the Sanskrit.

"The Good Lord Made Them All."

You doubtless remember the story of the old lady who deplored the shooting of crabs because, though she didn't know what they were, "life was probably as dear to them as to anybody."—From "The Business of Being a Woman," by Ida M. Tarbell.

AH!

"A woman has to be steadier than a man and more self-sacrificing than a man, because when she plunges she does more harm than a man."—"Marriage," by H. G. Wells.

Lesson From Flowers.

There is dew in one flower and not in another, because one opens its cup and takes it in, while the other closes itself and the dew runs off.—Beecher.

Knowledge.

There is no wealth like unto knowledge, for thieves cannot steal it.—Burmese Proverb.

Apparatus for Finding Water.

The hazel twig as a water finder has been supplanted by a remarkable invention, consisting of a simple apparatus. The principle on which the instrument works is the measuring of the strength of electric currents between the earth and the atmosphere. These are always strongest in the vicinity of subterranean water courses, the flowing waters of which are charged with electricity to a certain degree. The apparatus takes the form of a box-shaped instrument fixed on a tripod, with a dial on which a needle is used to indicate the presence of water. If the needle remains stationary it may be taken for granted that no subterranean spring exists; the spot where the greatest movement of the needle is obtained is that where well boring operations should be made.

Making Balance Even.

A chimney sweep's boy went into a baker's shop for a twopenny loaf, and conceiving it to be small remarked to the baker that he did not believe it was weight. "Never mind that," said the man of dough. "You will have the less to carry." "True," replied the lad, and, throwing three half-pence on the counter left the shop. The baker called after him that he had not left enough money. "Never mind that," said young sooty, "you will have the less to count."

Bird Sanctuaries.

Bird sanctuaries recently have been established in England and in Australia. An attempt is now being made to protect the herons of Egypt, from which country the birds rapidly are disappearing before the guns of the plume hunters. The bird-protective work is becoming world-wide in its manifestation. All countries finally are becoming to realize the service which the birds render to man.

Pedestrians.

A teacher in a primary school was endeavoring to make clear to her class the meaning of the words "equestrianism" and "pedestrianism" when she put this query to one small boy: "What is a pedestrian?" "He is one of those fellows," said the boy, "who makes an awful kick when an automobile runs him down."

The Occupations of Kings.

Thus Nero went up and down Greece and challenged the fiddlers at their trade. Aeropus, a Macedonian king, made lanterns; Harcattus, the king of Parthia, was a mole catcher, and Biantes, the Lydian, filed needles. —Jeremy Taylor.

Sad Accident.

Nothing was saved except the front wheels, the engine being badly cracked by the heat. Mr. Schneider lost a Panama hat, his gloves, inner casings and other extras.—Yakima (Wash.) Republic.

Hard Job.

It is going to be difficult to get women to quit judging other women by the furs they wear.

ROMEO CAUGHT IN CHIMNEY

Curious Antics of a Breton Lover Arouse Excitement in Village in Brittany.

This story comes straight from Mor-laix, a very modern place in Brittany.
Our Romeo, like Chaucer's hero, was caught in the chimney. He was going to his sweetheart, instead of running away from her. The pretty Juliette was a distance of some seven miles from his home. The enamored Romeo tramped it on foot all that distance. At night he reached the house, and called, but got no answer.
As the door was shut he decided to try the roof. On the roof he found the chimney, and it seemed to him that was quite wide enough to let him down. He descended for some distance, but then, as he came near the fireplace, the chimney narrowed. He slipped and got in a narrow neck.
Here he was caught, unable to move up or down. Before long he felt a suffocating sensation. If the thing lasted much longer it would be the end of him. He could stand it no more. After groaning he yelled, and he bellowed so well that not only was his sweetheart disturbed in her slumbers, but the whole village was excited.

The nearest chimney-sweep was called, but he could not help him out.
The gendarmes woke up the mayor, and he, with all the notables of the place, went to look. They consulted among them, and the only way to liberate the captive lover was to pull down part of the chimney. This was done by some masons, and he was presently released, but before being allowed his freedom a police report was drawn up, with a view to inflicting a series of fines for breaking into a private inclosure, damaging other people's property, wakening up the authorities unnecessarily, and causing a public scandal. Poor Romeo was very sad when it was all over.—Paris Correspondence, London Telegraph.

Last of Schaghticoke Indians.

The few survivors of the Litchfield county (Conn.) tribe of Schaghticoke Indians own 300 acres of land and five houses, valued at $3,000, besides a little personal property. They subsist by selling potatoes and other products, cutting railroad ties and wood and working on neighboring farms. The tribe is reduced to ignorance and poverty as a result of leading shiftless lives and by intermarriage and mixtures of races. The great event at the reservation is the annual rattlesnake hunt in the spring, when the paleface joins in the sport and furnishes all the whisky antidote needed.

Stabbed by Umbrella.

Perhaps the strangest weapon used for killing was an umbrella.
October, 1908, a man named
Smith was found dead in Chis-High street, England. He had a wound in the eye which reached his brain and which the doctors agreed had undoubtedly been caused by the steel ferrule of an umbrella.

"I don't open them," thought the man. "I thought they were more useful than a knife."

Take an honest glance at the Southwest corner of Ridgewood and Volusia Avenues; that good 8-room house sitting quietly on that beautiful 85x200 lot is anxiously awaiting your discriminating inspection and stands ready to prove its worth to you.
